THE CHILD-ELLIS WEDDING

The Guests—The Costumes—The Presents—Reception at the Parsonage.

Fairfield, April 16—Half an hour before the time set for the marriage ceremony of Miss Grace Child and Mr. Aldis Ellis at the Congregational church in Fairfield, yesterday afternoon, the building was well filled by the invited guests, and by 4 o'clock, the auditorium and the adjoining Sunday school room were crowded until only standing room could be had. The six ushers were kept busy showing fashionably gowned ladies to seats. There was a rich and varied display of costumes, many empire dresses being in evidence, while the colors were the new shades of silver, ivory, old gold, mauve, lilac, amethyst, and tones of red. While the audience was waiting for the hour of the ceremony, the organist gave a fine musical program, and promptly at 4 o'clock the wedding march struck up, and the folding doors of the church parlors opened and the bridal party sailed forth, walking the whole length of the school room and the auditorium.

The ushers came first, six in number. Mr. Pemberton Sturges having been added to the list of young men already mentioned. Next followed the eight bridesmaids, all wearing white costumes, and leghorn hats, four of them trimmed with wide bows of blue satin ribbon, and four with peach blow satin. The gowns were of chiffon, and made empire style, with short over jackets of waists of embroidery, and long white sashes. Each of the young ladies carried a large bouquet of maiden hair ferns. Miss Theodora Child, the maid of honor, was dressed in a fairy costume of blue crepe, with a shirt waist of rich lace. Her hat was of blue and trimmed with wide blue ribbons. She carried a large bouquet of American beauty roses. The bride came next leaning on the arm of her brother, Dr. Frank Samuel Child, Jr. The groom, Mr. Aldis Ellis, with his father for best man, Mr. John A. Ellis of Berkeley, Cal., waited at the altar for the coming of the bride.

Rev. Dr. Child, the bride's father, performed the ceremony, which was brief, the organ meanwhile giving forth a subdued intonation. During the ceremony the congregation remained standing. A large number of automobiles were at the church to convey guests to the Sherman parsonage. Invitations to the number of 600 having been issued for the reception. At the parsonage the bride and groom received in the east drawing room, standing beneath an arch of smilax and tulips backed by palm trees. The bride wore a full train, white satin dress, the edge of the train formed of large box plaits, between each of which there was a plaque of rare lace. The style of the dress was empire, with a waist of rich old point lace. A long veil completed the costume and she carried a large bouquet of white bride roses. Mrs. Child, mother of the bride, was gowned in a white satin striped chiffon, the waist trimmed with crystals. She carried a large bouquet of lilies of the valley and maiden hair ferns. The interior of the parsonage was profusely decorated with flowers. All the open fire places were banked with spires and azaleas, while the vases on the mantels were filled with bouquets of pink roses. The east drawing room where the guests were presented to the bridal party, was a mass of pink azaleas.

As the guests entered the house they were taken in charge by the ushers and presented to the bridal pair the eight bridesmaids standing in a row at the left of the bride. A few of the guests noticed in the crowd were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wheeler and the Misses Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sturges, Mr. and Mrs. Nellis Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bulkeley, Prof. and Mrs. Pinckney Hargrove, the Misses Hinckley, Mr. Benjamin Betts and Miss Sallie Betts, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Donaldson, Rev. Dr. Gilbert, Sup't. and Mrs. William A. Wheatley, Mrs. William B. Glover and the Misses Glover, Prof. Harvey Swann, Prof. and Mrs. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Glover, Rev. and Mrs. Henry C. Woodruff, Miss Mary B. Kippen, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wyrten, Mr. John Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. Livingston G. Smith, Mr. Roger Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Deyo, Miss Sadie Deyo, Rev. and Mrs. Deyo, Elting F., and John E. Deyo, John Donaldson and Marion Donaldson, Mr. Fred W. Smith, Deacon and Mrs. A. P. Wakeman, Mr. Justice Bacon Wakeman and Mrs. Wakeman, Mr. and Mrs. Bullard of Bridgeport, Miss Emma F. Wakeman, Miss Eleanor Morehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wakeman, Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Brewer, Mrs. Beach, Miss Lena M. Schwartz, Mrs. Burroughs of Bridgeport, the Misses Bradley, daughters of Clarence H. Bradley, Mr. William O. Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Burr, Sheriff and Mrs. Stage of Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham, Mr. J. P. Kingsbury of Bridgeport, Mr. Frank Hotchkiss and many others.

The presents were very numerous and filled three rooms. On the first table in the study was a collection of candlesticks, Tiffany favorit glass, tall and slender vases, bon bon dishes, etc. Several tables came next loaded with all kinds of silver ware, tea sets, chests of knives, forks and spoons, silver plate and covered dishes, a silver chafing dish, servers, etc. Another table contained hammered brass work and rare specimens of pottery. In the ante-room to the study there was a table loaded with pictures of all kinds—water colors, engravings, and oil paintings. Still another room contained a fine display of linen, and sofa cushions, napkins, with the letter E embroidered upon them and much Mexican drawn work. The collection of jewels was very fine and costly, consisting of necklaces, brooches, watches, traveling clocks, rings, fans, etc.

The reception continued until about 5 o'clock, and after the presents had been examined, the guests passed into a glass pavilion at the rear of the house where creams, coffee, cakes of all kinds and cooling drinks were served. A dozen or fifteen young ladies in white formerly members of the bride's Sunday school class, served the refreshments, while as many young men assisted at the tables in the dining room. About 5 o'clock the bridal party took an automobile and proceeded upon their wedding tour, the destination being kept a secret. The terror for the event was Mr. John E. Boyle, who had all the cakes, creams, silver and china, used for the occasion, brought from New York.

PUBLIC OPINION

To the Editor of the Farmer.

A despatch relating to the affair of E. E. Davidson and Miss Clark of Washington, Ind., appeared in your issue of the 14th. Investigation shows that Dr. Davidson was not a Christian Scientist as reported.

Sincerely,
FREDERICK C. HOTCHKISS.

Mr. F. G. Fritts, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children, as it is mild, pleasant and effective, and is a splendid medicine, as it cleanses the system and clears the complexion. F. B. MEN'S SPRING SUITS

THE tremendous business of the past week was a fine tribute to our splendid stock of the most stylish and down-to-date line of spring clothing. It surprised a lot of people, who opened an account with us last week, to see the beautiful patterns in men's suits that we carry, the large stock, and also the stylish cut and fine tailoring we put into our clothing.

The finely fitting coats with their padded, tailored shoulders, hand-tailored collars and button holes, and the revers re-inforced by hair-lined canvas. The coats lined with serge, venetian or mohair as you may select. The best merchant tailor cannot turn you out a more satisfactory suit. You will certainly be astonished.

Freaks of the Avalanche.

One still January night a number of people in a tiny Swiss hamlet of the Canton Valais quietly abandoned their homes, and shortly before midnight the avalanche broke loose with plunging roars. It started many others in its downward roll, left the usual track broke through and destroyed an old straggling larch forest and completely buried a big chalet in which twenty-six persons had taken refuge. Of these nineteen were killed and seven saved. This avalanche found a final resting place in a lake which its broken masses struck with terrific impact, causing thousands of fish to rise to the surface, quite dead. This reminds me that yearly tens of thousands of chamois, foxes, marmots and all kinds of birds, including even the lordly eagle himself, are destroyed by avalanches and their attendant hurricanes. Last season at Andermatt a superb mountain eagle was dug out of an avalanche alive, together with the sheep upon which it had been preying.—Woman's Home Companion.
